FOREWORD

Follow a year at Shepherd College through this year's Cohongoroota. All years are alike: the same surroundings, unchanging traditions, the usual schedule of classes and activities. But the aim of this yearbook is to spotlight that which has made this year at Shepherd College different from any in the past or any to come. Only the people are different: a different student body composed of last year's underclassmen, who moved up to replace the graduates, and supplemented by a new class of freshmen, who add to an ever-increasing and improving student body. New faculty members join experienced instructors of previous years, for the increase in student enrollment demands new professors to fill new positions and to replace those who have retired.

These are the people of Shepherd College, those for whom Shepherd College was established and whose experiences provided the basis for this yearbook.

. . . AND Ambitions

The same need for competent instruction — New Faculty Members, Mr. Gary Moreland and Mr. Paul Saab.

The same tradition — New Parents of the Year, Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Ruda.

The same responsibilities—New Student Senate Officers, Richard Adams, Vice President; Stanley Rote, President.

. . . ONLY THE People

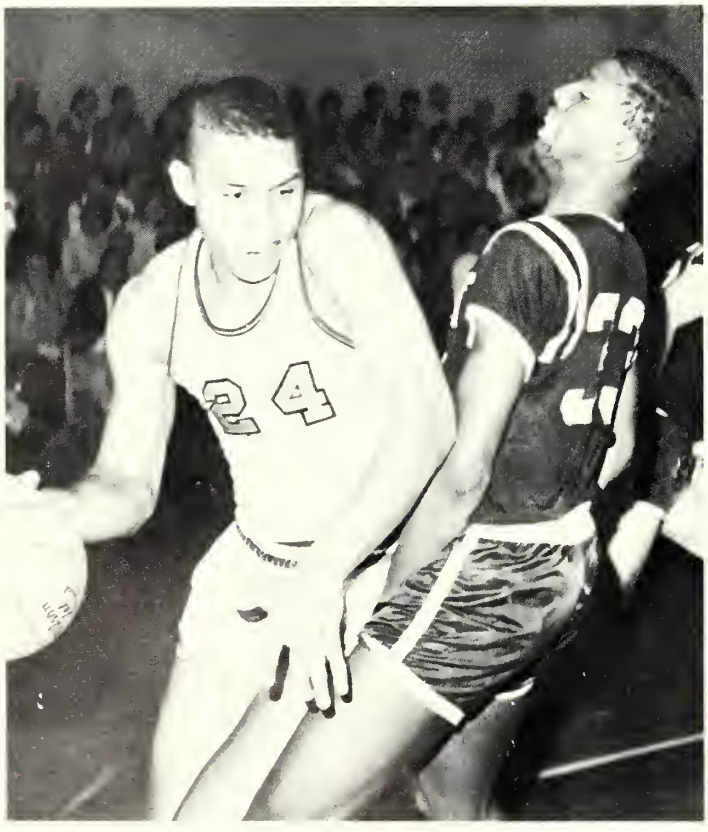
The same academic classes — More area Freshmen each year waive English 101.

ARE DIFFERENT

The same title and ceremony — A new Homecoming Queen is crowned.

Always a crowd before class —
Each year made up of different faces.



The desire to win each year is captured in a different face—Wayne Harris, Outstanding Freshman Basketball Player.

The result of the desire to learn is often the attainment of the McMurran Scholar Award. The 1965 recipients: Lynn Cooney, Mary Wysong, Jane Rissler, Linda Kerns, Judith Butler, Jane Ikenberry.

THEIR Faces

Students' interest in activities outside the classroom is shown by their attendance at convocations, concerts, plays, lectures, and films.

THEIR Ideas

THEIR Achievements

New pledges with the traditional hope of becoming members of Greek organizations: Charles Cline, Phi Sigma Epsilon; Donna Strosnider, Alpha Sigma Tau; Maritta Perry, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Tom Stuckey, Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Intercollegiate competition in sports arouses keen hopes for members of the Shepherd College athletic teams — 1965 W.V.I.A.C. Swimming Champions.

AND Hopes . . .

Employment opportunities offered by the College—Patricia Dudley, clerk in the College Bookstore.

Application of concepts learned in the classroom —Laboratory in Plant Taxonomy.

. . . OUR SCHOOL OFFERS

Actual experiences in the classroom situation — Ellen Scarborough, Student Teacher.

Formal classroom instruction is essential for the endeavors of Shepherd students — Professor James Butcher and a class for the preparation of elementary teachers.

Informal individual counseling is available for all — Professor James Hafer and Jordanian student Asmi Uthman.

. . . THE Academic

. . . MODERN Culture

DR. KRAMER

This year's cultural program featured such distinguished speakers as Dr. Samuel Kramer, a scholar in Pre-Biblical Archaeology and Semantics, and Dr. Charles McCoy, an author and professor of religion in higher education. An art exhibit composed of students' paintings added to the College's cultural offerings.

DR. McCOY

The New Journeymen, a major attraction of this year's Parents' Weekend.

YET Keeping . . .

. . . A Historical SETTING

The Town Run — campus scene.

Nearby Bellevue.

Main Street — Shepherdstown.

Entrance to Shepherd's Campus — Buildings which have remained year after year, unchanged but filled with different students.

Combining THE OLD

Historic McMurran Hall — Oldest College Building.

Victorian interior of McMurran Hall.

WITH THE New . . .

Recently constructed buildings, the Men's Residence Hall, the Health and Physical Education Building, and the Snyder Science Hall, contrast with the campus' century-old facilities.

EACH YEAR Unfolds

Greetings from faculty to new students at President's Reception.

Fitting into the campus routine — a hurried lunch between classes.

. . . AS THE ONE

The beginning of each semester — Registration.

Donning a freshman beanie — the traditional start of a new school year.

The Ram's Horns, a recently organized student music group, promotes school spirit.

BEFORE. . .ONLY THE Students

A popular booth at the World University Service Carnival.

The annual Christmas Party—a different Santa and helpers.

The rush between classes.

ARE NEW . . . AND MAKE THE Year

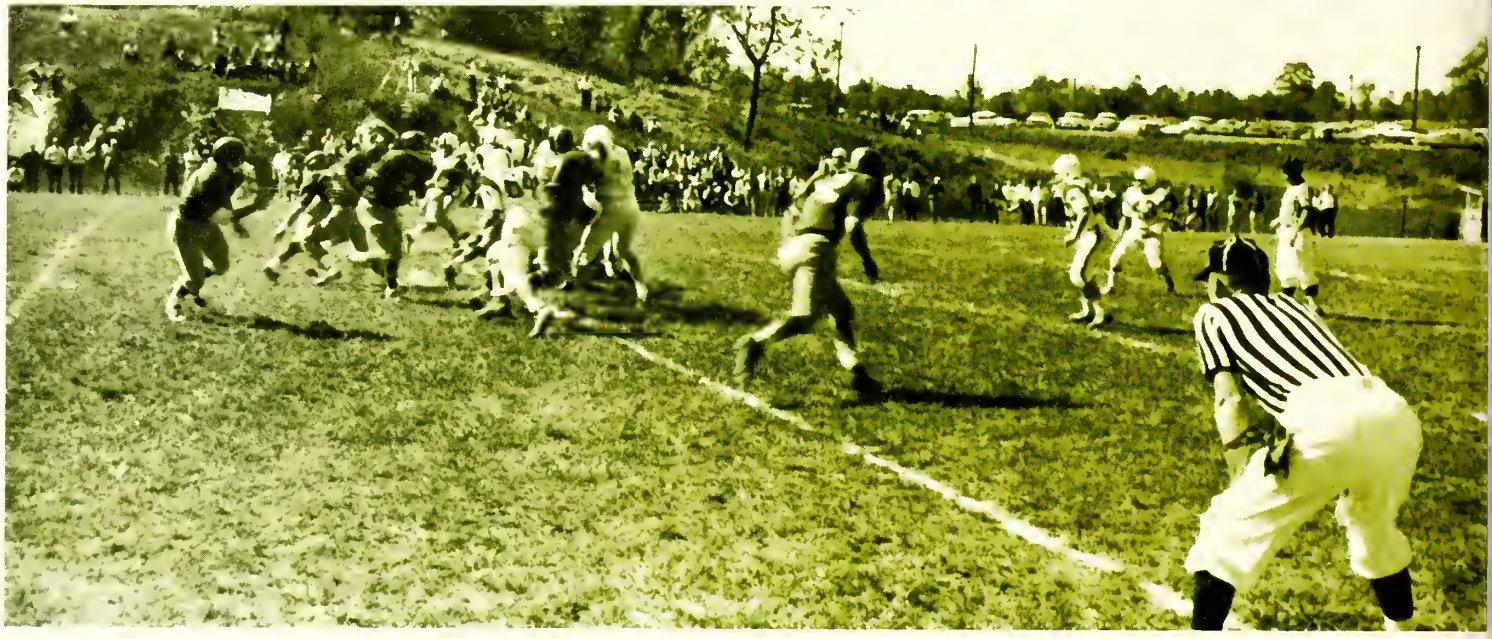
College Choir presents its Christmas Concert at the local Presbyterian Church.

Men's Hall residents sponsor Children's Christmas party

Develop UNLIKE ANY BEFORE



Although every football game is vigorous, each one is different.

Construction of Shepherd's new library.

Kappa Delta Pi Reception for Dean's List students.

Preparation for Homecoming.

An informal discussion during Leadership Conference.

A scene from "The Lady's Not for Burning."

. . . OR ANY TO Follow . . .

STUDENTS FROM THE Freshman

The Rams' Mascot, Ike II, and freshman grooms.

Fall millinery.

Another organization looking for members.

. . . ENTERING Eagerly . . .

Ready for the first semester.

Home Economics majors prepare for guests at the Home Management House.

. . . TO THE PROUD Senior

Tender moments during college lead to plans for the future.

Student teacher's preparation for tomorrow's classes.

Liberal arts students complete required research in library.

A secondary education major's rush to finish a project for methods class.

. . . GRASPING THE Time

. . . TO MOLD THE Days

Faculty and students discuss Leadership Conference speaker's topic.

International Relations Club sponsors trip to the World's Fair.

Registration line for Parent's Day.

Members of the Student Education Association meet with their state and national consultants.

Home Economics majors serve tea following the Honors and Awards Convocation.

A typical campus organization meeting.

AND MAKE FROM THEM THEIR . . .

President Oliver S. Ikenberry

"The opening of this school was the beginning of a new era in the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia." "As individuals mature through the college disciplines, so the institution matures in its role of service." The role of Shepherd College in the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia, as expressed by a plaque presented to the College by the Jefferson County Chamber of Commerce for service in the eight-county area and the words of President Oliver S. Ikenberry, has not changed since the founding of the College by "far-sighted" men in 1871. ". . . for it is the training of students who revere the best American ideals with which Shepherd College is mostly concerned."

Shepherd College is looked to not only as an institution for the training of the area's youth, but also as the location for organizations, such as the Area Research and Development Center, which promote the economic and cultural welfare of the Eastern Panhandle counties.

". . . the citizens of Jefferson County believe that Shepherd College has made their area a better place in which to live and work."

Berkeley Springs Chamber of Commerce Dinner.

Organizations

STUDENT SENATE

OFFICERS: Stanley Rate, President; Richard Adams, Vice-President; Isabel Druschel, Secretary; Rabert Athertan, Treasurer; Cecil Arnald, Sergeant at Arms; Dr. Layd Bates, Advisar.

The Student Senate represents the student body in campus improvements and all activities concerning students. Composed of senators from all campus student organizations, it serves as the approving body of all new organization constitutions and club concessions. Annually, the student body elects a president and vice-president, and the president appoints the secretary and the treasurer. The meetings, held weekly by the Senate, are open to the student body.

COLLEGE CENTER BOARD

The College Center is the focal point of college community life and is governed by a Board which provides services and conveniences for the campus in an informal atmosphere. Through the Board's committees and staff, a cultural and social program is provided, aiming to make freetime activity a contributing factor to education. A list of the Board's activities this year would include a Welcome-Back Dance, bridge lessons, literature seminars, "Meet the Professor" programs, and free films.

COACH CARL HARTMAN

Coach Carl Hartman's basketball team finished the season with an 11-11 record. Failure to win on road trips was the plight of this year's Rams. The record of never having won in a post-season W.V.I.A.C. tourney was maintained as the Rams lost to Wheeling College by one point in avertime. Hartman had a young team which proved to be a potential powerhouse. The team surpassed the 100 mark on nine separate outings and reached the 140 mark against Potomac State. Bill Thampsan continually displayed steady offense and aggressive defense and was selected to the ALL W.V.I.A.C. first team. This team won the respect of its opposition.

SWIMMING

1961-63-64-65

Winning the West Virginia Conference championship has become a habit for Coach Erwin Fieger's tankmen. The latest count is now four of the last five years. This was their third consecutive championship. It was team effort and the challenge of repeating a championship performance that returned the W.V.I.A.C. trophy to Shepherd College. Finishing the regular season with a 7-5 record, the Rams were paced by senior Ric Hutterly who ended his Shepherd College swimming career with a record-breaking total of 132½ points. This was a hard-working well-balanced team truly worthy of its meritorious recognition.
